EAGMA was founded in 1987 as "VAGMA" (Virginia Angora Goat and Mohair Association) to foster and support, through education and marketing, small Angora goat farming, small mohair-based business, and the acceptance of a non-traditional farm animal. In 2008, in recognition of the growing diversity of the membership, VAGMA became the Eastern Angora Goat and Mohair Association.

President's Letter:

Show-time is almost here. Our judge, Justin Stieler, is getting married two weeks before the show. He and his new wife and their two daughters are including our show in their honeymoon plans. We appreciate Justin's dedication to the mohair industry.

Hay and straw are in short supply in the Lewisburg area, so you will have to bring your own this year. We will let exhibitors know if there is any change. Due to the probability that the No-Dog policy in our lease will be enforced this year, we have been asked to make sure that no dogs (livestock dogs included) be allowed in the buildings/barns.

At the lunch meeting on Sunday, we will be taking nominations for new officers and open board positions. I will not be running for president again but will be happy to continue to participate in EAGMA as a board member.

Meals for the show will be: Saturday lunch-sandwiches and drinks for sale, Saturday dinner-gourmet pizza, lasagna, garden salad, bread and dessert, Sunday lunch-barbecue, coleslaw, salad, mac and cheese, and ice cream sundaes. Coffee will be available at all times.

Since the judge will be driving his own SUV up from Texas, we will rent a trailer for him to take the mohair back with him. Current price for adult white mohair is around $1.80 per pound. EAGMA will be charging around 40¢ per pound to transport the mohair to cover gas and expenses for Justin. Payment will be required at the show. We will have burlap bags to re-bag your mohair if it is going into the pool, or you may send it down as an individual in your own bag. Pat and I are excited about being able to clear out the hayloft of mohair from the last two years. We are grateful to Justin for his willingness to do this for our organization. Please, if you haven't let me know that you are bringing mohair, do so as soon as possible so we know what size trailer to rent.

Spread the word about the show. Encourage folks who have purchased animals from you or those who are thinking about getting into goats, to come to the show. It's a great place to learn and make connections.

-- Steve

Mark your calendars!

The 2009 EAGMA show will be June 12 through June 14
at the West Virginia State Fairgrounds in Lewisburg, WV
Justin Stieler, Judge

Show forms and information are at www.angoragoats.com

Board Meeting Minutes:

The April Board meeting was held on 4/5/09 in Centreville, VA at Ruby Tuesday's restaurant. Board members attending: Adrienne Hall Bodie, Lisa Check, John Frett, Pat Harder, Steve Harder, Pat Kalitka, Colleen Reed, Karen Schlossberg, Mindy Soucek; board members absent: Greta Dise; other attendees: none.

Following lunch, the meeting was called to order by Steve Harder, President.

Treasurer's report (Adrienne Hall Bodie):

2009: $1012.56 on deposit. $162 to be deposited.

June 12-14, 2009 Show planning: Final schedule has been announced. Tri-fold updates will be complete prior to MDS&W. Goat inspections for ACAGR will be coordinated by Karen S. CAGBA inspections are TBD. Leslie will coordinate the fleece show. Updated forms will be posted to the web site.

Show costs: EAGMA is now being charged for liability insurance for the fairgrounds for the entire show weekend. In order to cover these costs, the board voted to raise the non-show fee to $6/goat (8 yes, 1 abstain), show fee to $9/goat (9 yes), non-EAGMA fee to $20 (9 yes), vendor fee to $35 (9 yes).

Mohair Pool: The mohair pool will be run during the June show. The pool is open to EAGMA members only, and will accept both white and colored mohair. John Frett has some bags and a scale; however, the group still requires a frame in which to support the bags during filling. Show schedule was updated to establish pool processing times.

Website updates/improvements report (Karen Schlossberg and Lisa Check): Website improvements are moving slower than expected. Placeholder changes have been made/posted in the meantime.

The EAGMA meeting at the show will include a discussion of the shearing date question and a call for nominations for EAGMA president.

The next newsletter will be published in May, then the post-show newsletter will be published in July. The July newsletter will include show results, a call for a new EAGMA logo, and a ballot for a new EAGMA president and the shearing date issue.

The next meeting will be in July.

Meeting adjourned.

Membership Dues went up for 2009!

Dues are $25 if you renew before June 1st, and $30 for late renewal.

Integrated Parasite Control and FAMACHA, by Anne Zajac, DVM
Friday 2 – 6:30 PM

Anne Zajac, DVM, Ph.D. is a professor at VMRCVM and is a member of the Southern Consortium for Small Ruminant Parasite Control (SCSRPC). There is always a lot to learn about parasite diagnosis and control. Space is limited and pre-registration is required. EAGMA member fee is $15.00 (non-member $25) plus the cost of the FAMACHA chart if you choose to purchase one (TBA).

Farm Management for Raising Goats on Pasture
by Dr. Ken Turner
Saturday 9-10 AM

Ken Turner, Ph. D. is a research animal scientist and Supervisory Lead Scientist at the USDA Agricultural Research Service. This talk includes a discussion about bioactive forages and other considerations for GI parasite control in small ruminants. Consider this part II of the Friday IPC/FAMACHA lecture. Free.

Ask the Experts!
Judge Justin Stieler, Dr. Ken Turner,
Dr. Melinda McCall,
moderated by John Frett (EAGMA)
Saturday 10-11 AM

This is your chance to ask questions and discuss what concerns you have about raising Angora goats. Learn from others' experiences and share your own. Free.

Ask the Veterinarian
Melinda McCall, DVM
Saturday 11:30 AM – 4 PM

Dr. McCall is offering one-on-one consultative sessions to discuss your particular concerns and questions about raising Angora goats. Sign up at the show for a 15-minute, hands-on session. Free.

Dyeing with Natural Dyes
By Phylleri Ball
Saturday 9:30 AM – 12:30 PM

Students will dye yarn with a variety of natural dyes. We will work with local plants as well as purchased dye like Cochineal. We will explore both casual dyeing - throw it in a pot and see what happens - as well as measured recipes. Handouts with dye recipes are included. Commercial yarn for dyeing will be provided. Class fee is $40 plus materials of $15. Pre-registration is required.

All of the forms and rules for the show are on the EAGMA web site
www.angoragoats.com
Please submit your forms by June 1st!

CALL FOR SPONSORS
Class Sponsorships & Show Premiums

Because last year's sponsorships were so successful, we are hoping to do it again this year. You are invited to sponsor any class in either the colored or the white Angora show. The sponsorship money is used for prizes for all of the top-three winners in every class as well as to provide premiums for the Grand and Reserve Champion winners.

Class sponsorships are $50, and include your "name in lights" in the program at top of the class's listing as well as a business card advertisement in the regular advertising section. If you are interested in sponsoring a class, please contact Colleen Reed at 540-364-4728 or giantcricketfarm@gmail.com as soon as possible with your preferred class for sponsorship. The competition classes are generally the same for both white and colored. Classes which are still available for sponsorship as of this newsletter going to print are:

Red Card Buck Kid, Red Card Doe Kid, Red Card Adult Buck, Red Card Adult Doe

Don't forget that the EAGMA show also hosts a special Aged Doe Class – for white goats only – for does that are 5 years or older, in memory of SueAnn Nissen and in support of her belief in the value of strong herd matrons. Bring out your best herd mama for this class!

Fleece Competition

You can learn a lot about the quality and condition of your goats from their fleeces. You might also become the envy of many handspinners, too. Bring your fleeces to the show to find out how they stack up against the competition! Leslie Orndorff is coordinating the fleece show again this year, so give her a thank-you when you see her.

Colored Goat Inspections

In order to make sure that everyone is accommodated during daylight hours this year, all colored goat inspections require pre-registration. Please contact the ladies below to make arrangements for your goats.

A Note about Costs

This year has not been a great one for many people, especially when it comes to budgets. EAGMA is still above water, but only just barely. For the first time since the show moved to Lewisburg, we are being charged a separate fee for liability insurance for the fairgrounds. And so, for the first time in several years, we raised our show entry fees. We tried to accommodate that extra cost of insurance by spreading the fee increases across all of the parts of the show. The board also tried to make the increase more palatable by making the Saturday night dinner a lower-budget affair. On the brighter side, Steve got the mohair pool organized to help us earn a few more dollars on the leftovers in our barns.

We hope that you can continue to support and participate in EAGMA through these different times. Of particular importance to us is your membership in the organization. So, when you are signing up for the show, please be sure to renew your membership if it is time to do so. Thanks. - Colleen Reed

Mohair Pickup / Wholesale Transport at the 2009 EAGMA show

Our 2009 show judge, Justin Stieler, has offered to drive our mohair back to Texas after the show in June. Depending on the quantity we have available to send with him (we need around 3500 pounds) and the cost of gas, it looks like the cost per pound for transporting it to Texas will be 40¢. The warehouse will take colored mohair fleeces too. Due to poor weather in Texas (see National News, pg. 5) there may be a mohair shortage later this year, so prices for mohair could go up, too.

Mohair sales are a big deal for producers who may not be EAGMA members. You are encouraged to spread the word about the mohair pickup to all of your non-EAGMA friends. Yes, they have to be EAGMA members to ship their mohair with us, so let them know how to become members. There is no waiting period, so they can join EAGMA and then join us in the mohair pool at the show.

Please contact Steve Harder as soon as possible with your approximate quantities so that we can make final arrangements.

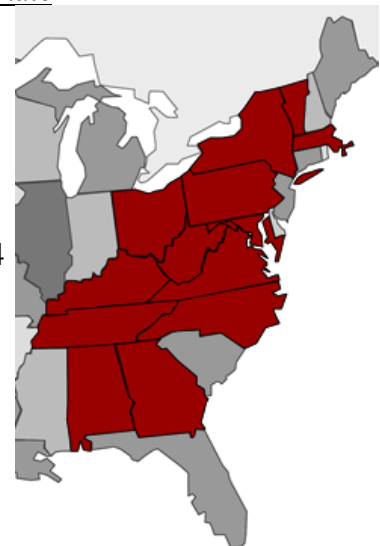

When you are sorting and preparing your fleeces, be aware that all colors of colored mohair can be bagged together. Colored and white tags/stained skirts can be co-mingled. All white adult can be put together regardless of the sex of the animal from which the fleece came.

National News

Texas: Heavy rain and temperatures that stayed in the lower 30s from March 11-14, 2009 spelled disaster for thousands of freshly-shorn Angora goats in the Texas Hill Country. Joel Gourley, executive director of the FSA office in Kerrville, told Texas Farm Bureau's Radio Network that losses in Edwards County alone could run up to 18,000 head. "There are producers who have lost anywhere from 75 to 85 percent of their herds," Gourley said. "It's really a severe loss."

Gourley, who oversees FSA operations in Bandera, Edwards, Kerr and Kimble counties, said he has also heard of losses in Sutton, Schleicher, Concho, Menard and Kimble counties. He said the natural disaster will put a lasting dent in Texas' Angora goat herd, the largest in the nation. "There will be some that go out of business," he said. "There's not even any goats out there available to buy. For the first time ever, there will be a lot of producers out there that don't have any

Gourley said his office is giving ranchers information on how to document death loss on their goats so they can take advantage of the Livestock Indemnity Program, details which have yet to be announced. He said payment rate for the goats should be 75 percent of the fair market value, which has yet to be determined. Although the indemnity program has been around for many years, it was rewritten in the 2008 farm bill and federal regulations have not yet been published. For more information, visit <http://www.txfb.org/>

National: Langston University's American Institute for Goat Research has entered its kidding season. Approximately 400 kids will be born before the spring is over, bringing the total number of goats at this Oklahoma institution to over 1,000. The five breeds raised and studied here are: Angora, Alpine, Boer, Cashmere (Spanish), and Tennessee. For more information, visit <http://www.luresext.edu/goats/index.htm>

National: Nationally, total mohair production dropped to 1.184 million pounds during 2008, down 12.7 percent from 1.357 million pounds produced during 2007, the lowest level since the last high in 1987. After dropping to record lows during the mid-90's, prices for mohair made an excellent recovery in 2000, weakened during 2002 showed strength during the following five years, but weakened slightly during 2008.

Texas continues to dominate the mohair industry, producing about 69.4 percent of the 1.184 million pounds of mohair produced during 2008, followed by

Arizona with 9.2 percent, New Mexico with 6.4 percent, California with 1.5 percent and about 13.5 percent produced in about eight other states.

For more information like this, see "Mohair Production, Price and Value" on page 28 of the USDA Statistical Bulletin Number 1023 (March 2009). (Call 1-800-999-6779 to order a copy of this or other similar reports.)

International News

Australia: Different hemisphere, same problems. Over on the other side of the planet, the February 2009 publication of the New South Wales Farmer's Association discussed issues which are much the same as ours. Among the topics in their newsletter are: the national government's push for a nation-wide livestock identification policy, parasitic resistance to common medications, and export restrictions. Further information on those topics can be found on the Goat Industry Council of Australia (GICA) web site, www.gica.com.au

Call for Volunteers

Northeast Angora Goat Show Oct 17-18. New York Sheep & Wool Festival

As our new name reflects, EAGMA is more than just Virginia, and our members participate in more than just the West Virginia show. Our members work hard to support the Angora goat events in festivals up and down the Eastern seaboard. Your time and effort counts too. Please consider volunteering to support the wider spectrum of Angora goat events and festivals.

The organizers of the New York Sheep and Wool Festival's Angora Goat Show are seeking volunteers to help with preparations for the show and during the festival itself. Preparation and organization work includes organizing entries and putting together the show brochure. Help during the festival is needed both with the fleece show and sale, and to help with running the Angora goat show itself (setting up the P.A. system, handing out ribbons, helping to hold goats for people who have more goats in a class than people to hold them, etc.). If you are interested in volunteering, please contact Dan Melamed and Sara Healy at (518)537-4487 or send e-mail to slhdem@valstar.net.

Call for Sponsors Northeast Angora Goat Show Oct 17-18. New York Sheep & Wool Festival

The Northeast Angora Goat Show at the NYS Sheep and Wool Festival is looking for sponsors for the Saturday October 17 show. Specifically, we are looking for folks to sponsor the premium classes for the show. Each class in the show pays a total of $50 in premiums. The Grand Champion premium is $50, the Reserve is $25.

Those choosing to sponsor a class will be recognized on the NYS Sheep and Wool Festival's Angora Goat Show page under a heading of "Show Sponsors" and in the printed Angora Goat Show brochure during the Festival. This listing will also include a link to the sponsor's website. In addition, during the show, the sponsor's name will be announced at the time the class is judged. If the sponsor has business cards, brochures or catalogs that they wish to send along, we'd be happy to display these items on a table near the show ring.

Sponsorships may be mailed to: Dan Melamed
111 Kozlowski Rd., Elizaville, NY 12523
Your check should be made payable to: NYS Sheep and Wool Festival. Sponsorships will be accepted on a "first come first served basis." Please be specific as to which class you are sponsoring. For example: Natural Colored Yearling Doe Show Class, White Adult Fleece Class, etc. Thank you for considering this request for sponsorship! Please feel free to contact me with any questions. – Dan Melamed
Call Dan at (518)537-4487 or send e-mail to slhdem@valstar.net
